FIELD VS. SHORB.

A Sensational Suit Before Judge Van Dyke.

Strong Array of Legal Talent on Both Sides.

Points at Issue as Set Forth in the Complaint.

Suit for Detainment for False Imprisonment Against the Cable Company—The State Bond Filed—General Court Notes.

The trial of the case of D. W. Field, Public Administrator, against Dr. A. S. Shorb and Mrs. Mattie L. Shorb, a sensational suit to enjoin defendants from defrauding the heirs of Daniel J. Harris, deceased, of some $27,000, which it is alleged they obtained from Harris under duress during his last sickness, was commenced before Judge Van Dyke and a jury in Department Four of the Superior Court yesterday.

The plaintiff alleges in his complaint that on May 18, 1890, Harris paid over to Mrs. Mattie L. Shorb the sum of $500; and the further sum of $1288.25 on July 8, 1890; that some time prior to July 1890, Harris placed on deposit in a Washington bank the sum of $25,000, to bear interest at 5 per cent. per annum; that the certificate of deposit fell into the hands of Dr. A. S. Shorb, one of the defendants, and through the Los Angeles County Bank the money was drawn from the Washington bank, and placed on deposit in the former bank to the credit of Shorb; that some time later $10,000 of his money was placed in the Los Angeles Savings Bank, $10,000 in the Security Savings Bank, and $6000 in the Main-Street Savings and Trust Company; that at the time of the death of Harris all that the defendants turned over to the Public Administrator were $45 in money, some household furniture and watch, the whole valued at about $335, the same being property of deceased. The Public Administrator seeks to recover the sum of $25,000, and $1288.25 on this ground that the Shorbs exercised undue influence over the deceased during his last illness; that they prejudiced him against everyone but themselves, and made him believe that efforts were being made by outsiders to injure him in health and property. While he was in a feeble mental condition they gave him large quantities of whisky, and so added to his dependence upon them for care and attention; that during his mental prostration they induced him to part with the money and the certificate of deposit, and make over to them other valuable property.

Daniel J. Harris, from whom it is alleged the Shorbs inveigled the money which gave rise to this suit, was a railroad contractor. Washington, etc., etc., but by judgment or luck is now the center of the townsite of the prosperous town of Fairhaven, he cleared $150,000. He soon afterwards came to this city on a visit to his friends, the Shorbs, and while at their house on the corner of San Pedro and Adams streets became infatuated with a housemaid, in their employ and married her. They finally settled down on Girard street; but Harris' miserly habits soon disgusted his wife, and she left him. In the spring of 1890, Harris was taken sick, and called in his old friend, Dr. Shorb to prescribe for him; and the physician was unable to cure him, and the patient died in April, 1890. Letters of administration to the estate were soon after granted to D. W. Field, the Public Administrator, who found upon investigation that the Shorbs were in possession of a good deal of Harris' property. All but the money, however, was turned over by them, and that they refused to part with, claiming that Harris had given it to them. His heirs, knowing his penurious habits, felt confident that Harris had only given the money to the Shorbs in trust for them, now seek to prove that such is the case.

The jury by whom the case is being tried consists of B. F. Bryant, H. A. Card, R. J. Collins, J. H. Claudius, J. L. Dougherty, E. P. Ferguson, C. C. Johnston, J. R. Martin, A. A. Proctor, A. W. Steele, C. E. J. White and A. C. Weeks.

Messrs. Wells, Monroe & Lee, G. M. Holton and Charles Gardner are the attorneys for the plaintiff, while the defendant's interests are being looked after by Hon. S. M. White and Messrs. Wilson & Bulla.

The trial will probably last the rest of the week.

SUIT FOR FALSE IMPRISONMENT.

In Department Two, yesterday, the trial of the case of S. E. Booher against the Pacific Railway Company, a suit to recover damages in the sum of $10,000 for an alleged false imprisonment, was commenced before Judge Clark and a jury. About two years ago, when the Pacific Railway Company commenced to change its system from one based on cable to one based on steam, the man in charge of the Twelfth and Olive street barn, was suspected of having been guilty of certain irregularities in the disposition of some of the horses, and Detective Lawson was employed to make an investigation of the matter. The result was that Booher, who was employed as a car driver by the company, was arrested by Lawson, who was also a deputy sheriff, and locked up, in order to scare him into making a confession. This was done without authority or due process of law, Booher, upon regaining his liberty, sued the cable company, which had employed Lawson, for damages. The defendant, however, claims that as Lawson's services were dispensed with by it a few hours before Booher's arrest, that it is not liable for any act committed by that officer.

RELATION TO HIS DIVORCED WIFE.

In Department Five, yesterday, the case of G. O. Tiffany vs. H. C. Benton et al., came up for hearing on an appeal from Justice Owen's court, and resulted in a verdict for defendant for $8.25 and costs. Plaintiff claimed that on November 20, 1890, he left a sorrel horse, buggy and harness, etc., in the custody of defendants, who are the proprietors of a livery stable, but that they subsequently refused to return them to him, whereupon he sought to recover the value of the property, $999. It is shown by the defendant, however, that Tiffany gave the team to his wife, from whom he was subsequently divorced, and that therefore the property did not belong to him.

THE ITATA'S BOND.

The taking of the depositions in the Itata case was to have been resumed yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, but at that hour an adjournment was made until 7:30 p.m., in order that a certain document might be received from San Diego. As the document had not arrived at that hour, however, counsel agreed to rest as the matter stood, and no further proceedings will be had now until October 20, when the case comes up for trial.

The official bonds for the Itata's release, with E. S. Babcock and S. G. Havermale of San Diego as sureties thereon in the sum of $120,000 each, arrived from that place last night and will be filed today.

Court Notes.

Charles Hillier Goodman, an Englishman, was duly admitted to citizenship of the United States by Judge McKinley yesterday, upon producing the necessary proofs of residence here and taking the usual oaths of renunciation and allegiance.

The case of A. L. Darst against Dr. Greene, a suit to recover money on a bill for the painting of defendant's buggy, came up for hearing in Department Five yesterday on an appeal from Justice Austin's court and resulted in a judgment for plaintiff as prayed for.

In Department Three yesterday, the case of Charles Montgomery vs. H. W. Carpenter came up for hearing before Judge Wade, but the plaintiff failing to appear, judgment was ordered for defendant in the return of the property, for $846.60 damages with interest and costs.

In the case of W. Burns vs. J. P. Weller, judgment was ordered by Judge Wade yesterday dissolving the partnership hitherto existing between the parties, each side to pay its own costs.

Hon. George E. Ollis, Superior Judge of San Bernardino county, presided in Department Five yesterday. Judge Shaw having exchanged with him temporarily, in order to try a case which the former was disqualified from sitting upon.

New Suits.

Among the documents filed with the County Clerk yesterday were the preliminary papers in the following new cases:

ORANGE LAND.

The Gov. Stoneman Home Tract

Is well adapted to the growth of citrus fruit. Since this property was put upon the market the local nursery men have purchased tracts to set out nursery stock upon. These men know all about the soil and the unfailing water supply. Without going into plenteous of their enterprises would provide a future. There are still some choice tracts for sale.

F. Q. Story of Alhambra has purchased ten acres, which he intends setting next spring to Navel oranges.

Among the buyers of the Gov. Stoneman Home Tract, since it was put upon the market, we are pleased to mention, among others, Attorney J. A. Graves, F. Q. Story, E. Pollard and J. C. Wallace, whose sagacity for good bargains is admitted by all who buy and sell in the vicinity. They are in the vicinity of this tract, and know all about the title, the property, and all the conditions surrounding it—having lived in the vicinity for years. These facts being known should set at rest all idle rumors concerning it. If possible, will call upon E. L. CONGER, No. 30 Broadway, Bunker Hill Block, Los Angeles, or No. 56 East Colorado Street, Pasadena, they can see plots of the tract and also learn of the lots unsold. To such, we can now assure them that there are still some of the most valuable lots remaining. We ask parties to investigate. The agents will take pleasure in giving information and showing them over the property.

The observations of the official and semi-official expeditionary force that traversed the proposed outfall sewer route yesterday, are recorded in other columns.

The San Jose Better Times is wrestling with the Sheriff on an execution for $750, and upon the result of the issue depends the question whether times will be better or worse in that quarter.

One of the indictments against our Board of Education, which will go down to posterity, is that it did a gallant thing and then took it back. It asked a lady for her company and then failed to see her home.

It is said that the Germans of Cincinnati are indignant at the Democratic Legislature for failing to provide for the printing of German ballots to be used in the new Australian ballot law. Die Woch am Rhein! forever!

J. M. QUINN of this city has received one of the famous McKinley tin badges, manufactured at Piqua, O., a picture of which was given in Our Times a few days ago. The badge is a tin disc about two inches in diameter, hung by a red silk cord upon a white satin ribbon, printed in blue. The medal is stamped with the following legend.

Made of Ohio steel and California tin. McKinley and Protection.

Piqua, 1891.

MAJ. MCKINLEY, the next Governor of Ohio, (and maybe the next President of the United States,) while at Piqua, O., visited the tin plate factory and saw the plates rolled out and tinned. All the material used was American product and the labor was American. McKinley took the tongs and dipped a few plates into the bath of melted tin and thus made the plate himself. The tin was from the Temescal mines in this State. The factory is making tin plate every day. Yet the tin plate liar says there is no tin mine in America, and no tin plate is, or can be, made in this country.

A MEETING of the State Association of Irrigation Districts of California has been called to meet at the rooms of the Board of Trade in this city on the 20th of October proximo. The objects of the meeting, as stated in a circular, are as follows:

To form a more perfect organization of all the irrigation districts in California and to bring about co-operative action in marketing irrigation district bonds.

To formulate plans and take initiatory steps looking to the procuring of needed legislation a year hence as well as to effectually protect and prevent the enactment of laws inimical to the best interests of the district system.

To fully consider the state of the district system of irrigation in California as well as the condition of the several districts and take such action in the premises as shall seem wise.

Each district in California is invited to be represented by one or more delegates whether or not such district is or desires to become a member of the association. Invitation is likewise extended to known friends of the district system throughout the State to be present and take part in the discussions.

It is hoped that reduced rates from the Southern Pacific Company may be obtained for delegates.

The Battle in San Francisco Against Crime.

It is the duty of the press and public of this State to sustain by all proper means the efforts of Judge Wallace, the grand jury and the San Francisco Examiner, in inquiring fully into the operations of the gang of scoundrels who for years have dominated the entire official machinery of this State, as well as the city and county of San Francisco. Some papers are trying to obscure the real issue, by charging that the action of Judge Wallace and the jury was and is aimed at Republican scoundrels alone, and that due notice was given to Buckley and his staff, who at once fled the country.

It can be asked, why have the alleged Republican wrong-doers remained? If they are innocent of any crime, why do they fear to go before the grand jury? Certainly this refusal can only be considered as an admission of guilt. Why should Stephen T. Gage and Richard Chute resort to all manner of legal objections, at great cost to them or their employers, to prove that the grand jury is illegal, when they could go before that body and affirm or deny their connection with, or knowledge of, any criminal conduct?

The howl about Buckley is only the cry of "stop, thief!" by the thieves. Buckley is no more a Democrat than he is a Republican. He has been in the pay of both sides for years. In the last campaign in San Francisco, he was paid by certain corrupt Republicans, who today are on the wrong side of the penitentiary walls, because of the crimes they hired him to commit. But for him and his "reform" Democratic swindle, honest men might have been elected to many offices which were filled by men who are today unprosecuted criminals.

But for his aid, paid for by men who claim to be Republicans, the State and the Republican party might have been saved the disgrace of the most venal Legislature which ever assembled in any State. There would have been no electric railway legislation scandal, no Bruner whitewash, no waste-basket episodes, nor any of the thousand-and-one scandals and criminal reports to go abroad and darken the fair name of the whole people of this great State.

All of this criminal flood had its origin with men who claim to be Republicans, and Judge Wallace is doing his party the greatest possible service by his efforts to discover crime and punish the criminal. No honest Republican, no man of any party, with honest, decent instincts will be guilty of attempting to stifle inquiry into the criminal honor of his calling; that between men who feel alike in this respect there should be something of an esprit de corps. To such we say: Gentlemen, you would do well to heed this hint which has been given you from the bench. When your dereliction in the matter of maintaining the standard of decency and honor in your profession has become so notorious as to make many believe that the practice of the law is a species of roguery, varying only in degree as between different individuals and their capacities for dishonesty—when it has come to be acknowledged that a sneaky attorney can do anything he pleases—swindle, steal, forge, go to prison or skulk away from pursuing officers, and finally go unwhipped of justice and unrepudiated by the bar; when the association with rogues is beginning to smirch you all, it is time to call a halt. It is no common condition of affairs which would justify a magistrate of high personal and official standing in administering such a rebuke as Judge Ross did from the bench. That it is a just rebuke, you must yourselves acknowledge, for if you do not the public will acknowledge it for you.

You may have temporarily lost sight of the fact that you are all officers of the court; that the court and its officers who constitute the bar are in a certain sense the arbiters of the property rights, liberties, the reputations and the lives of individuals. It is not just to the public that you should maintain as an officer of the court, in a position of great privileges and opportunities, a man who stands morally convicted of the most flagrant crimes—a man whom you would not dare trust with the minutest part of your possessions, to say nothing of your reputation, your liberty or your life. Who can tell how much iniquity such a man, cloaked in the honorable garb of an attorney, may accomplish? As a matter of simple right, ought he to be permitted to prey upon the community? And if he is allowed to do so, whose fault is it?

But if your sense of obligation to the public is not a sufficient incentive, we appeal to your self-respect, your self-interest, to take steps for the cleaning out of this Augean stable. It smells to heaven.

Last July, under the McKinley tariff, we imported these products to the value of $1,921,402.

THE SUPERVISORS.

The New County License Ordinance Declared for Routine Matters.

At the meeting of the Board of Supervisors held yesterday, the new county license ordinance was in accordance with the terms thereof, duly declared in full force, to take effect on January 1, 1892.

The petition of A. McNally et al., for the removal of the hood to jail and keep him there until he had served out his sentence. It is no secret that Judge Ross is a Democrat himself, but no party "pull," even when supplemented by whining, hypocritical disclaimers and apologies was of any avail to turn aside his righteous sentence for the crime of tampering with the most sacred rights of the people. This shows how good a thing it is when a man with a high sense of honor occupies a position against him.

In the matter of the upper story of the Courthouse, communication was received from architects Curlett Eisen recommending certain changes in the original plans, which, upon motion of Supervisor Forrester, were ordered made.

The hearing of the application of J. Bessmyer for a mitigation of the judgment against him was set for October 8 next.

The Tax Collector made an application for certain furniture for his office, which was referred to Supervisors Forrester and Hubbard for investigation with power to act.

The bid of W. S. Arnold, $83,300, for the construction of retaining walls around the Courthouse grounds was accepted.

Upon motion of Supervisor Hubbard a demand presented by S. A. Waldron for mileage as a trial juror in Department One, in May last, was disallowed.

It appearing to the board that in order to complete the assessment roll by October 1, when the Auditor is required to turn the same over to the Tax Collector, it is necessary to have a resolution authorizing them to do so was adopted on motion of Supervisor Davis.

ON HIS MUSCLE.

A Traveling Man Knocked Out by a Pull-man Car Porter.

An exciting fight took place on the train from San Francisco yesterday afternoon. Just as it left the San Fernando street depot, and was making its way to the Arcade depot, a San Francisco drummer and the buffet-car colored porter had some words over a bill, when the drummer struck him in the face.

The man of color, who has the reputation of being the best natural porter on the road, stood for a minute looking around, and then decided what to do. In a bewildered manner he raised his hand to his face, and it came in contact with a very small drop of blood that oozed from a small cut caused by the drummer's ring. This brought his temper to the front in great shape, and quicker than a flash he was pumping sledge-hammer blows into the head, neck and shoulders of that astonished traveling man.

"Yo' footer from de norf aint gowin' ter hab no picniken when it comes ter runnin' er bluf in dis'glorious climate, an' I'll gib yo' dees'—lickin' yo' ever got, and in less than two minutes the man colored was flat on his back, with eyes closed, and known enough on his body to rig a good-sized schooner. A plate-glass window in the coach was smashed, and several pieces of furniture will have to go to the carpenter shop, but it is safe to say that the Pullman Company will not dock the porter, for he simply did what anyone else in the car would have done if he could.

A RECONNAISSANCE.

City Officials and Engineers Make a Trip

Over the Proposed Outfall Sewer Route via Centinela.

The City Engineer Exhibits and Explains His Sewer Plans.

The Lands to be Irrigated—The Question of Precipitation Works—Estimates and Suggestions—Dust and Debate.

Balona a branch of the main sewer would be required, debouching from the straight line at a point near the brick kilns, and involving a tunnel 1100 feet long (as per survey,) besides considerable close piping. The expense of this work would have to be added to the cost of the proposed system, having precipitation works as one of its features, as against the plain ocean outfall without any frills. The opponents of the former system suggest possible injunction proceedings, and argument against the Ballona Creek scheme, but it is by no means certain that the suit proceedings could be made to stick, when no nuisance could be shown, as none of the raw sewage would need to be turned into the Ballona outlet.

All these points were gone over in a candid and reasonable spirit by the members of the expedition.

The two plans advocated differ only in respect to the points of going to the sea or not; precipitation works or none. The route is conceded on all hands to be the shortest and best, and perfectly feasible.

The route was followed all the way to the sea, and several members of the party started by previous arrangement to inspect the line of the proposed outfall sewer, as surveyed by City Engineer Dockweiler.

In the party, besides the City Engineer, were the following gentlemen: Councilmen Tufts, Rhodes, Alford, Innes, McGarry, Nickell and Reese; Assistant City Engineer Flynn; Engineers John P. Culver, George Hansen, and E. T. Wright; Col. J. J. Ayers and Peter Fenniman of the Herald; Mr. Bennett of the Evening Express, and a representative of the Times.

The party occupied two carriages, and Mayor Hazard, in his private carriage accompanied the others as far as Inglewood, where he debouched in order to meet an engagement to dine with President Manly, and a party of guests of Dan Freeman of the Ranch Centinela.

The route of the sewer which is known as the Centinela route is familiar to all readers, having been frequently described in these columns. Starting in at the southwest corner of the city, near the race track, it pursues the shortest and most direct course to the sea, which it strikes at an uninhabited sand dune, about a mile distant from Santa Monica and Redondo, and distant from the starting point of the southwest city line, 11.4 miles.

The City Engineer had armed himself with his official maps and diagrams, showing the plan and direction of the route, the elevations and depressions, the spots for the introduction of two siphons, etc., and gave, in response to inquiries, detailed explanations of the scheme and the proposed manner of carrying it out. His plan is to carry the sewer around or through a hill near Inglewood in order to secure command of the greatest possible amount of land susceptible of irrigation from the sewer. Whether going around or through this ridge, he claimed that not enough land can be obtained where the sewer will agree to take the sewage. Whereas on the other side of the elevation there are at least 12,000 acres of land to which the sewer would be immediately tributary, and whose owners have already signified their wish to get the sewer water, if not the raw sewage, and who are said to be willing to pay $5.50 per acre per year therefore. This is about one-third the price paid by cultivators in the Vernon district for city sewer water.

Further than this, it is represented that there is still larger body of arable land, of the area of perhaps 35,000 acres, whose topography is favorable for irrigation, and which may be obtained, and which might be purchased by means of open ditches making out from the main sewer. These ditches, however, would not necessarily be part of the official sewer system.

While several large rancheros in that direction are, as stated, ready to take the sewage, Mr. Freeman, owner of the Centinela, poses as an opponent of the urban fertilizer and of the sewer scheme.

He holds that it would be deleterious to the town of Inglewood; besides, he is preparing to carry sugar-beets without irrigation. Mr. Freeman formerly offered a large sum—$40,000—for the city sewer to be run upon his ranch, but has changed his mind with regard to this. No difficulty, however, is apprehended in the proposed attempt to largely condemn a right-of-way through his land.

The question of precipitation or clarifying works was gone into to some extent by the members of the party. The City Engineer and the Councilmen generally are opposed to such works, holding that it would be better to go to the sea at once with the pipe line, and when the sewage is not wanted on the land turn it into the sea, or use the water for irrigation and send the semi-solids into the ocean with a head of water sufficient to give the needed velocity.

On the other hand it was contended that an inexpensive system of classifying works could be established, and a suitable place found six miles from the city and not far from Hyde Park or Inglewood, where the liquids might be separated from the solids, the water clarified, purified and made unobjectionable for irrigating purposes, and the solids disposed of by simple and effective methods. Mr. Culver estimated the cost of such works at $50,000 and the maintenance and running at $18,000 per annum. This estimate does not include the expensive sludge machines and other elaborate devices contemplated in some of our engineering reports, the cost of which would mount up to nearly $100,000, besides labor.

LOS ANGELES TIMES: WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1891.

The glut in the potato market has been relieved by the fact that the old crop is not in good condition, leaving what good fresh potatoes are obtainable to find a good market at fair prices. It is probable that in the future farmers in this section will be careful to plant their potatoes so as to have them in the market when the eastern markets are bare, and they can be shipped at profit.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN.

Wanted: A Connection for the Sewer System.

Camp Wilson Closes After a Prosperous Season.

The Pomologists will Assemble Here Tomorrow.

Surprising Railroad News—Seifert Again Heard from—Personal Mention of Prominent People—Brevities.

As a single illustration of the importance of a connection between Pasadena's sewer system and the sewer farm south of Alhambra, it may be stated that the present uncertain state of affairs is all that stands in the way of the Hotel Green annex being built.

A short time ago Manager Holmes visited the owner, Col. G. G. Green, at his home in New Jersey, on which occasion the Colonel told Mr. Holmes that he wished him to proceed at once on building the annex. It will be remembered that when Mr. Holmes left Pasadena the outlook was favorable for a speedy construction of the outlet to the sewer farm, but that an adverse decision has been handed down from the Supreme Court, and now Mr. Holmes finds himself at a standstill for the reason that the cesspool of the hotel is located on the ground where the annex is to go, and as long as he is unable to do away with this and find some other outlet for the hotel sewage, so long must the annex remain unbuilt. As is well known, the hotel is built on a large and imposing structure, and when completed, would give to Pasadena one of the finest hotels in the State. It is much to be regretted, therefore, that the existing state of affairs in such as to postpone an operation that would prove of so much benefit.

But aside from the hotel project, there are few citizens who do not take a lively personal interest in the sewer question. This is natural in view of the heavy taxes which must be paid to meet the interest on the bonds, while the good has so far resulted because of seemingly endless litigation. Until now the present City Council and attorney have had nothing to do with the case. The action of the Supreme Court places the responsibility with the State, and offers them a splendid opportunity to immortalize themselves. The case will be re-tried in the Superior Court sometime this fall, if the matter is not previously adjusted without recourse to law, as is possible, if not probable.

CAMP WILSON CLOSER.

Camp Wilson closed yesterday for the season. The summer has proved far more prosperous than the proprietors anticipated, and the closing was made rather early chiefly in order to allow for extensive alterations and improvements which have already been made. Since the 15th of May over 700 guests have registered at the camp. The majority of these made the ascent over the new trail, and it is a matter of sincere congratulation to the toll-road company that not a single accident has happened on its road.

Camp Wilson will appear much improved at the opening of the next season. A new dining-room will be built and a large frame building will be constructed to be used as a library and entertainment room. The camp will be considerably enlarged and will be built to the summit of Mt. Harvard, where an exceptionally fine and extensive view of the valley is obtained.

LATE NEWS OF SEIFERT.

The Express of yesterday published a dispatch from New York, O., as follows: "Dr. F. C. Seifert has arrived in New York, from San Pedro, California, to visit his mother, Mrs. Christine Flanagan and also on important business. Mrs. Seifert, who is well known in musical circles of New York, went to Berlin two years ago to pursue her musical studies as a pianist. While there, she fell in love with a music teacher named Emil Seifert. After a peculiar courtship she married him. Seifert turned out to be an adventurer and a rascal. As a sequel to her unhappy married life, she is the victim of a plot to kidnap her. The party in charge of Mt. St. James, who has engaged quarters at the St. James for some time.

There is a screw loose somewhere in the above. The widow of the well-known in Pasadena several winters past, His departure for Berlin, in company with a dashing widow, is also fresh in the minds of the people here; but as it turned out, after Seifert had extracted all the money from the widow, he made a bold stroke and married her maid. It is barely possible that the said maid is the music teacher referred to.

THROAT UNIVERSITY NOTES.

The courses of study have been arranged at the university, and will be published in a day or two. Much inquiry has been made with reference to the work in the preparation of the courses, and many of the students have applied for admission to this department. While the principal work of the institution will be in the college proper, no pains will be spared to do most efficient work in the throat school.

The school has been opened for enrollment of students in the various schools, and the secretary will receive applicants at any time during office hours.

The first meeting of the trustees will be held on Friday next, at 9 a.m., at the university offices.

LUCKY FOR PETE, IF TRUE.

The Herald states that Prof. T. S. C. Lowe "offered a bonus some time ago for a route for a railroad to Wilson's Peak, which would have less than a 6 per cent. grade throughout. Such a line has been located, and it is probable the Professor will have to consider the bonus."

The route will be followed by the line surveyed under Peter Stell's direction, and which was described at length in these columns about a week ago.

If Pete knows anything about the bonus referred to, he has kept very quiet about it.

PHONILOGISTS.

Tomorrow the Phonological Society of Southern California, will convene in Pasadena. Several days ago the same organization met here and had a general meeting to discuss it deserved. Happily there now seems to be a proper spirit manifested on the part of the public, and it is likely that the visiting delegates will receive a most cordial welcome.

The society will convene in William's Hall at 10:30 o'clock. There will be three sessions during the day. An interesting programme has been prepared, including an address of welcome by Prof. M. Parker of the city, and a speech by E. A. Bovine, and Bryant O. Clarke. The sessions will doubtless be well attended by outsiders.

CHAUTAUQUANS AT WORK.

The Chautauquans of the city met last Monday evening in Trinity Methodist Church to reorganize for the year. The following officers of the Union Circle were elected: President, Miss M. A. Huston; vice-president Mrs. Alice Moore; McComas; secretary, S. B. Percy. It was decided to hold a union meeting on the second Wednesday evening of each month, beginning with October. All circles were requested to send to the secretary of the Union Circle the names and addresses of their officers. Four local circles were represented: the Semi-tropic, Ramona, Eureka, and a new one just formed in the vicinity of Hanna College and not yet christened.

Prof. Will S. Monroe of Pasadena was present, and gave an address which was full of interest. Miss Lemmett recited. Mr. Abbott gave a vocal solo and Misses Douglas and Chambers played a piano duet.

The Chautauquans who were out in full force, seemed most enthusiastic over the work of the coming year, which opens October 1.

"NO ENCORES."

Programmes are issued for a concert to be given in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium next Monday evening. This entertainment ought to call out a crowd, if for no other reason than the simple phrase which is printed in the lower left hand corner of the programme. Only two words—"no encore"—but what a world of meaning they convey!

It indicates that the programme will not be rendered tedious by the recall of every number, which happens often, to the annoyance of the performer and frequently to that of the audience. Proper discrimination between the just merits of performers is not always made, the audience, pleased with the first number, demands an encore, and then; when it offend other performers, keeps it up the entire evening so that the shortest programme becomes tedious in its length.

The Y. M. C. A. held a regular monthly meeting yesterday evening at the reading room of the Y. M. C. A. The different committees presented their reports of the work accomplished during the past month. Delegates were elected to the eleventh annual State convention, which convenes at Sacramento October 14.

The Pasadena Women's Baptist Association will be at the Baptist Tabernacle next Sunday evening at 8 o'clock.

Miss Augustine Berger, Miss Clark, Mrs. W. C. Clapp, Messrs. O. Stewart Taylor, H. E. Hamilton, A. W. S. Dunn, C. C. Bryam, J. S. Nuelle and J. A. Osgood are among the musical artists whose names appear on the programme.
